

Cassie Steele, Pavement

How did I end up like this?
I'm driving you arund and taking care of your kids
And maybe babe I should have listened to my folks
'Cause now I'm stuck in pavement on the road
How did I end up like this?
All the plans I had we're chocked by your evil kiss
And maybe babe I should have listened to my folks
'Cause now I'm stuck in pavement on the road
Yet now I'm stuck in pavement on the road
How did I end up like this?
I'm rolling like a stone and baby here is travesty
Maybe babe I should have listened to my folks
'Cause now I'm stuck in pavement on the road
Yet now I'm stuck in pavement on the
Baby the silver lost its shine long time ago
And I'm stuck on the inside watching as grow old
Never once realized I must pay for my mistakes
Sentenced to a pavement grave
Sentenced to a pavement grave
What did I leave behind?
A life I could have had that now buried by the sand of time
If only I came to all my chains and ropes attached to me
All I have is corder destiny
What did I leave behind?
If only I could burst the words with you and you were mine
'Cause maybe baby I have had a lovely life
Instead I'm just another sour wife
Instead I'm just your sweetly sour
Baby the silver lost its shine long time ago
And I'm stuck on the inside watching as grow old
Never once realized I must pay for my mistakes
Sentenced to a pavement grave
Sentenced to a pavement grave
How did I end up like this?
I'm driving you arund and taking care of your kids
And maybe babe I should have listened to my folks
'Cause now I'm stuck in pavement on the road
Baby the silver lost its shine long time ago
And I'm stuck on the inside watching as grow old
Never once realized I must pay for my mistakes
Sentenced to a pavement grave
Sentenced to a pavement grave
