

Casting Pearls, Revolution

Stand up please state your name
Is there something you'd like to say
Speak up man you've got the floor
Tell me what you believe
What is your everything
What do you live and die for
Livin' life satisfied with second best
Livin' life through the dreams of someone else
Did you forget who you are?
Get on up right now
You've got to get on up and scream and shout it out loud
It's time to show the world who we are
Let's live the life we're meant to live
Let's start a revolution
Stand up please plead your case
I must say that I am amazed
To hear the words that you say
Hey man it's not too late
Here comes a brand new day
Don't let this one get away
Livin' life with the weight of yesterday
Just let it go today's the only day
The only day you can change
CHORUS
