

Cat Stevens, Kitty

I work in the mornin', I work in the night
the men on the block, they just laugh at me
I work in the mornin', I work in the night
the men on the block, they just laugh at me

But when they're wiping their silver spoons palming the men for some bread, I'll be laughing
Way, way out of my head!

When my little kitty gets out, there's gonna be a party, a party no doubt
When my little kitty gets out there's gonna be a party

And if my mind isn't coming so fast the men on the block say I'm on the brink
And if my mind isn't coming so fast and I aint so dumb as some people think

'Cause when they're wiping their silver spoons
palming the men for some bread
I'll be laughing, way way out of my head