

Catalepsy, Iniquity

Absent

In his revealing moment

Your scream his name

Hoping that you'll be answered

Repent your sins

In these last moments of life.

If there's a voice to be heard,

Where is this voice?

Hope does not exist for you

But will your faith stay true?

All you life investing false hope into

A book you've misread

In the end will you stay true

Maintaining faith in the one who betrayed you.

Don't you know that your only savior is you?
