

Catch 22, Guilty Pleasures

Could've been different if i sang the song i sung so long ago and now i'm feeling like i'm stuck in slow motion again but all i've got is time running around in circles just to find peace of mind and u know i'm gonna get whats mine

i've lost touch
too much sympathy follow me, don't follow me fragments of each sentence representing anything i think and still i try to smile and stil i try to laugh and still i'll never change i'm stuck here studying the past so count me in no, count me out, it happened again

CHORUS:
could've been should've been would've been different becuase i know now what i never knew then
could've been
should've been
would've been different
could've been

could've been differnet if the fragments of each sentence were reminiscent of a sing-along song i sang so long ago

and still i try to smile
and still i try to laugh just to find that peace of mind
and u know i'm gonna get whats mine
so count me in
no, count me out
it happened again

CHORUS:
could've been
should've been
would've been different
becuase i know now what i never knew then
could've been
should've been
would've been different
could've been

foget about apologies i'm not a sorry kid so sing along with me same song we used to sing