

Cathy Dennis, Love's A Cradle

Someone to shelter me and show me the way
Someone who'll still be there when all's said and done
Someone to hold tight through the long nights and cherish when the days are no more
Someone who gives me all the things that I need
Someone who shares in all the secrets I keep Someone who'll be strong when it goes wrong and comforts me when I can not sleep
And picture this the two of us together
And the sun shines all over the world
I picture this and a brighter day is all I know
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
Love's cradle will come to catch my fall (you're sure to catch my fall)
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
You speaking my mind says it all
Please don't ever release me again.
Someone who understands the madness in me
Someone who doesn't judge the things I believe
Someone to hold tight through the long nights and cherish when the days are no more
Someone to see me through the silence and pain
Someone to bring around the good times again
And when the clouds cry in their grey sky you'll bring me right back out of the rain
And picture this the two of us together
And the sun shines all over the world
I picture this and a brighter day is all I know
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
Love's cradle will come to catch my fall (you're sure to catch my fall)
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
You speaking my mind says it all
Please don't ever release me again.
I picture this and a brighter day is all I know
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
Love's cradle will come to catch my fall (you're sure to catch my fall)
No matter what I do everywhere I turn you're with me
You speaking my mind says it all
Please don't ever release me again.