

Cattle Decapitation, The Gardeners Of Eden

Falling from grace forever damning the human race
A parable amongst mortals, for we were damned from the start
Mass creators of population, yet destroyers of civilization
With piss and bile coursing through veins that flood an ashen heart
God damned this world -- that is if "god" exists
God hates this world -- left his "son" tied to a stick?
God as sadist -- this is the portrait you paint
God is within and we ruin everything...
We ruin everything.
Slow death (in the garden) unnatural selection
Sodomy (unwillingly) of everything
Our debts will never be paid, our mark left unerased
The sands of time now a suffocating desert
Devoid of color, grey matter produces greyer skies
The will to power -- a suicide
Leave no trace -- eliminate the human race
Killers.
Murderers.
Civilians...
The gardeners of Eden
Wreckers.
Ruiners.
Terrorists...
Addicted to death
God damned this world -- that is if "god" exists
God hates this world -- left his "son" tied to a stick?
God as sadist -- this is the portrait you paint
God is within and we ruin everything...
Leave no trace -- eliminate the human race