CeCe Winans, Slippin'

There you go again slippin' Doin' the things you said you'd never do again You hear me callin' your name, you're hiding But I know just where you are so close but yet so far Turn around and see the miles you've come Do you really wanna go back Just to start again, oh, my friend I can't bear to see you go out that way Don't make the mistake of letting go Don't be afraid, I'm here Hold on to me, your slippin' Pretending everything is okay In the front of the crowd, you're smilin' But after everyone's gone, you're all along You're not fine, you're slippin' Take off the mask with me I see your heart, it's hurting If you wanna stay with me, I need honesty Don't play with me, you're slippin' Can't make it on your own, stop tryin' I've got the power to keep you from fallin' If I could just have the chance to show you What real happiness is like, together we'll win the fight
