

Celestial Season, The Celestial Dragon breathe out, wherever she walks the workers and whores are blinded by love give in, 'cause when she begins you will surrender to the precious smile, that she brings she's open fire and rain the stars can't complain with her at their side just by the touch of her hand broken young man you will know today is the day give it up, give it up when she's on your way...
