

Celestial Season, The Scent Of Eve

Celestial Season

Solar Lovers

The Scent Of Eve

...And I find light in the tears

From your eyes

...And I find hope in the tears we cry

For now we cannot

Let them fall anymore

In the light of day we can only sign

The twilight embraces our souls uproar

Through the woods we'll run

Where natures caress is sweet

In solitude we find each other

I trace your warmth

You treasure my strength

In these days we share tomorrow

Exiled we are now

In the barest part of our shared nature

Because I sank so deep

...So deep to find you

I stare at your face

The untouchable one

I wanted to touch it... To hold it

But life turns away... forever...
