

Celine Dion, All Because Of You

Thought I could define it
One look in your eyes when it proved me wrong
I find myself speechless
This feeling of completeness is so strong
And I was convinced that my heart had reached it's limit
Untill you created this new place in it
Your touch wraps around me
In love that knows no boundaries
Now, there's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning, now
All because of you
Everything is different
There's no frame of a reference for the way I feel
But to look at your face
I am still amazed, I can't believe you're real
I can lie here forever just watching you sleep
Hanging on every breath that you breathe
Your touch wraps around me
In love that knows no boundaries
Now, there's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning, now
All because of you
Your touch wraps around me
In love that knows no boundaries
Now, there's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning, now, all because of you
All because of you
