

CelKilt, The Next One Down

Guess you never know what's cooking just around the corner
Guess you never know what's coming up for you
You'd better take these dreams to town while you still can
Wake up now
Soon you'll be the next one down

Guess we can agree that we just don't know where we're going
When everybody here is doing something wrong
You better crack your shell, so much for the next storm
Wake up now

Or Soon you'll be the next one down
And no one will be following
You'll be the next one down
Cuz everyone will go
If you're the next one down
You better quit your wallowing
You better start to run
Or life will swallow you

You'll be the next one down
And no one will be following
You'll be the next one down
Cuz everyone will go
If you're the next one down
You'd better quit your wallowing
You'd better start to run
Or life will swallow you
