

Celtus, Waiting For The Rain

One world, one dream
One voice, one theme
Open your mind
Beyond the bounds of race and creed
We are but one
Now I'll fall down at your feet
So please help me off the ground
Waiting for the rain
Hoping that love finds me
Wash into my skin
Let it wash away these tears
Waiting for the rain
Through mists of time
We've searched in vain
(To reach within)
Man is the key, the sea of life
Within the eyes of everyone
Now I fall down at your feet
So please, lay your hands on me
Waiting for the rain
Hoping that love finds me
Let it wash into my skin
Let it wash away these tears
