

Chaka Khan, Change Your Ways

Hey, can you change your ways
Our love is such a treasure
Why do you run away
From things that give you pleasure

I love you all this time
On and on I've tried to work it out for the right day
In life you'll learn, you'll see
From birth, we start to die
Oh so fast, so near
There's nothing to lose

Nothing to fear

So little time to try
There's so much to know
Then to see the pain it shows
To get what you deserve
To reap what you sow
That's the way it goes

Why can't you change your ways
Why can't you change your ways
Why can't you change your ways
