

Chantal Chamandy, Sometimes

there's not a day that goes by that I wonder where I'd be there's a hole, I can't seem to fill and sometimes I can't breathe I've had so much to be thankful and I am but I need the dream to fill the emptiness sometimes I need you, sometimes I cry wanna start over and be a child sometimes I dream of you, sometimes I pray that if you were here I'd have no fear happiness is a state of mind that happens from within sometimes I feel it but then it dies or maybe I stop believin' I've had so much to be thankful and I am

but I need the dream to fill the emptiness

please give me the strength to believe in me again turn the flame into fire feel this burning desire just let me feel

sometimes I need you, sometimes I cry
wanna start over and be a child
sometimes I dream of you, sometimes I pray
that if you were here I'd have no fear