Charlatans UK

Tellin' Stories

Tellin' Stories

I'll be there in the mornin'

Can't you see I'm tellin' stories

My sweet angel's everlasting true love ways

I'll wait I sow the seed I set the scene

And I watch the world go by

See me go through changes

Revelations to blank pages

I'll find a brighter guide to see me through

And leaves fall to the ground

Turn to brown through the day just like you

Live for the day

I see your heart is empty I've got plenty

Joe, come ride with me

I see your head is meant to be cemented

It's true

All the stories that you tell come back to haunt you

Come see me in the mornin'

Can't you see I'm tellin' stories

My sweet angel's everlasting true love ways

While others turn to others

Introduce you and walk right on through

It's just about knowing where you come from being you

And singing, love songs can begin to fill your day

I could lead you to the top don't stop

I could lead you there still

Live for the day

I see your heart is empty I've got plenty

Joe come ride with me

I see your head is meant to be cemented

It's true

All the stories that you tell come back to haunt you
