

Charles Brown, Amazing Grace

Looking in your eyes
Is like looking through a window seeing clear skies of days gone by
Of happiness, imaginng sweet visions of your loveliness
Oh and your tenderness
Makes me want to cry, for the love that we've shared
It makes me feel alive to know that you care
Hold you through the night, let me lie in your arms
Tonight I want to love you girl til the morning comes and look into your eyes
Your sweet and smiling eyes
Take me to paradise
It makes me want to cry tears of joy
Whenever I see your sweet and smiling eyes
When I see your face, oh and you hold me in your warm embrace
I feel so safe
Your amazing grace calms me through the fire
Or the rainy days and the clouds it brings

Makes me want to cry, for the love that we've shared
It makes me feel alive to know that you care
Hold you through the night, let me lie in your arms
Tonight I want to love you girl til the morning comes and look into your eyes
Your sweet and smiling eyes, hold me darling
Take me to paradise
Your an angel, it makes me want to cry
Tears of joy whenever I see your sweet and smiling eyes
Could you be an angel from up above, from up above
So beautiful, beautiful, wonderful
Sent down from heaven for me to love
Oh I love you girl
Your sweet smiling eyes
Your sweet and smiling eyes
