

Charley Pride, Even After Everything She's Done

Yesterday tomorrow seemed a million years away
But here it is just twenty four hours later and I find that I still miss someone
I said I could despise her by the dawn of another day
But there's the sun and I don't hate her even after everything she's done
I convince myself I'd get her off my mind
A good night sleep and things would be all right
But I woke up this morning and now I realize that I can't forget her over night
I've tried to make myself believe that I'm much better off
I've told myself she's nothing special and I still find that she's the only one
And if I'd live a million years I know I'd never change
I'd take her back and I'd forgive her even after everything she's done
Even after everything she's done even after everything she's done
