

Charley Pride, In My World You Don't Belong

Yesterday you smiled and my world stopped its turning
All the love in your eyes was so strong
From my first hello to last night's bitter tears
And darling I have loved you though in my world you don't belong
Do you remember that first night when I told you I'm not free
And the way we tried so hard not to fall
But somehow time and fate had brought our lives together
And darling I have loved you though in my world you don't belong
[ steel ]
Do you remember...
Yes darling I will love you though in my world you don't belong
