

Charlie Louvin, Off And On

I broke the link that snapped the chains that bound my heart
I tell the world I'm glad each day you're gone
And people think I'm happy though we're many miles apart
When the truth is I still miss you off and on
Off and on from time to time now and then you cross my mind
I'm not free as the picture I've drawn yes I'm always gonna love you off and on [ steel ]
I'd rather live a lie than not to live at all
But living's more than dying since you've gone
That's why I've retreated here behind this wall
Where I can turn your mem'ry off and on Off and on...
Off and on off and on off and on
