

Charlie Peacock, Suddenly

Suddenly I can cry
I can tear up, baby, in both of my eyes
Oh, I suddenly am human again
Suddenly I can laugh
I don't need a reason, just laugh, laugh, laugh
Oh, I suddenly am human again
I could feel my heart had grown cold
I could feel myself slipping, slipping down a hole
Getting colder as the days grow older
Something had to change, I would have froze to death
I need a warm overcoat to be at my best
Otherwise I get chilly to the bone.
Suddenly I can cry
I can tear up, baby, in both of my eyes
Oh, I suddenly am human again
Suddenly I can laugh
And I don't need a reason, just laugh, laugh, laugh
Oh, I suddenly am human again
Oh, I suddenly am human again
Oh, I suddenly am human again
