

Charlie Peacock, The Only Light We Need

You're the only light we need
By Your light we see
All eternity
The glory and the majesty

Of the new Jerusalem
Where no sun will be
For Your presence, Your glory
Is all the light that heaven needs

By Your light we see
All eternity
The glory and the majesty

We're a people bought by blood
Brought together by the Son
From death of life, we all believe
You're the only light we need
You're the only light we need
