

Charlie Puth, Mother

he's such a nice boy, se well mannered he's so much better than lest one you brought around please and thank you , everything matters I'm gonna make sure that she knows I am the best she's found the moment she walks out the door I am not pretending anymore

if your mother knew all the things that we do if your mother knew all the things we do if your mother knew she'd keep me so far from you

sneak out the window, bed stuffed with pillows I'll be waiting in the car right around the block back of the benzo more than the friend zone we've been hiding since the time they forgot to knock
the moment she walks out the door

next time that she sees me she gon' act like she don't know me cuz she knows all of the story now your daddy wants to kill me ne next time that she sees me she gon' act like she don't know me cuz she knows all of the story now your daddy wants to kill me if your mother only knew

the moment she walks out the door

cuz she knows all of the story now your daddy wants to kill me
cuz she knows all of the story now your daddy wants to kill me
