

Charlotte Martin, Under The Gravel Skies

If you're gone, I can still hear your voice
Little voids making an anti-noise
Powerless, I need to rest a while
You were indelicate on my mind

But out of the black pools
I've risen up
I've risen up above

Do you dare there to give me your eyes?
Kissing me under the gravel skies
Won't feel right if I run after you
But I know one of us has to move

But out of the black pools
I've risen up
I've risen up above
Cause I still love you
I've risen up
I've risen up above

Stay a while
Stay til forever ends
Dont give up
Let the desire sink in

In this room: a door to the open road
In this room: lovers cannot let go

But out of the black pools
I've risen up
I've risen up above
Cause I still love you
I've risen up
I've risen up above

Out of (out of)
The black pools (the black pools)
I've risen up
I've risen up above
Cause I (cause i)
Still love you (still love you)
I've risen up
