

Charly, Lost

Charly
Just breathe
Lost

Shes sitting alone
Does any one care about her?
Shes caught in a trap
And she doesnt know how to break free
The sky is blue
But all she sees is darkness
And she thinks to herself
What is left in it for me?

Is there a place that can free her from all this pain?
Shes sitting alone outside and its cold in the dark and the rain

Chorus
And shes crying
Theres no-one here to save her

She sees the future clearly now
But she cant figure out how to change the past
And deep in her heart of hearts
She knows it will never last

Chorus

Everywhere she looks
She sees the screaming faces
They haunted her past and they still haunt her now
Shes fighting the trap
Shes trying to break free
But then she thinks to herself
What is left in it for me?

Shes sitting alone
Does any one care about her?
The sky is blue
But all she sees is darkness

And shes crying
Theres no one left to save her
