

Cheap Trick, Everybody Knows

Caught in the storm, lost in the sea
Damned for the crew and me
The captain he cries so many tears
Lost 'till eternity
And the bough she'll break
From the pounding waves
All aboard abandon the ship
Everybody knows
All ashore are drowned in the seas
As your lives will pass before your eyes
Caught in the act as a matter of fact
Her pants down to her knees
Saved by the bell, oh bloody hell
Take your positions please
And for those who sail
Through the pounding gale
All aboard abandon the ship
Everybody knows
All ashore are drowned in the seas
As your lives will pass before your eyes
Tell me over and over, baby well it's alright
And tell me it's not over
And we'll go on and on and on
All aboard abandon the ship
Everybody knows
All ashore are drowned in the seas
As your lives will pass before your eyes
Everybody knows
That's the way things go
All the ties that bind
Heaven knows they'll flash before your eyes
Everybody knows
That's the way things go
All the ties that bind
