

Cheap Trick, I Want You

Words and Music by Rick Nielsen

Going to write a three act play

So I can be with you

Produce, direct, and also act

But who will I cast as you?

I'm gonna find her, I'm gonna find her

It won't be easy but I don't care

I'll go to London, New York or Hollywood

I'll search the world for a girl

I want you

I don't want nobody else

I want you

I should have known it all along

I want you

Just tell me when and where

I want you

Why don't you just give me a call?

She went West so religiously

She took a vow

Not to return until she learned

What to do and how

I'm gonna find her, I'm gonna find her

It won't be easy but I don't care

I'll go to London, New York or Hollywood

I'll search the world for a girl

Exactly like you

Uh huh, I'd rather have you, oh yeah

I want you

I don't want nobody else

I want you

I should have known it all along

I want you

Right now, I need you right now

I want you

Oh come on little girl

I want you

Just tell me where and when

I want you

Why don't you just give me a call?

I want you

I don't want nobody else

I want you

I should have known it all along

I want you

Just tell me when and where

I want you

Why don't you just give me a call?

I want you, I want you, you you you

(Repeat to Coda)
