

Cheap Trick, Need Your Love (Live)

Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love
Fell apart, broke my heart, need your love, need your love
If I could go around the world, I wouldn't find another girl, need your love
Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love
You make me lonely, why should you care?
I gave you everything, that's hardly fair
I give you love, it's what you need
I give you everything, everything in me
If I surprise you, that's not the reason
Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love
Fell apart, broke my heart, need your love, need your love
If I could go around the world, I wouldn't find another girl, need your love
Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love

You make me lonely, why should you care?
I gave you everything, that's hardly fair
I give you love, it's what you need
I give you everything, everything in me
If I surprise you, that's not the reason
Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love
Fell apart, broke my heart, need your love, need your love
If I could go around the world, I wouldn't find another girl, need your love
Need your love, need your love, need your love, need your love
Need your love, need your love
Need your love
