

Cheez, The End Of The World Lies In My Mind

The world is cracking up
The apocalypse is coming
The world as we know it
Is now and forever gone for good

And I just wonder
How things ended up like this
All I can do is wonder
And wait for the world to fade around me

The oceans drying out
The desert sand is becoming rock
The arctics heating up
The equater becomes cold
And all I can do is sit and wonder

I'll face it with a brave face
As the ground cracks from under me
And I'll face it with all my heart
Crazy as it may seem

Crazy as it may seem
I know I need to redeem
Who I've been seen as
Who I am and will ever be
And wait for the world to fade around me
