

Chelsea Wolfe, Everything Turns Blue

I've been living without you here and it's alright
I'd been looking for a way out a long time I've been living without you here and I can fight I've been living softly my whole life to smoke, to dance, to fly to breathe into the night it falls and everything turns blue to fuck, to feel the same in the end to hurt, to steal
you were so unreal
I've been thinking about you heavy on my mind I've been losing days here do you know what that's like?
I've been thinking about you, you fucked me up in my dreams what do I have to do to heal you out of me?
to smoke, to dance, to fly
to hurt, to steal
to smoke, to dance, to fly
to hurt, to steal
you were so unreal
you were, you were so unreal you were, you were, you were so unreal
