

Cher, Love Is The Groove

In the east and in the west
Every bird will seek it's rest
Everyone will seek it's home
Home is where the heart goes

And the mood will rise and fall
And the light will touch the tide
Are we holding hands and never feeling

All around the world we swing
Like a penny in a spin
Always looking for the way
To get out, to get in

Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move

In the alleys of Monsay
In the streets of Katmandu
On the high roads of Peru
People meet and touch and go

But the wind of change will blow
And another dance will start
And I'll finally get the point
Like an arrow to my heart

Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move

Look back where's the sea
Who brought this mystery
Deep in another world
Someone is listening

And they as with night
And we keep asking why
Look back there's the key
Deep in another life

On the ship in which we sail
Everything is possible
Keep on turning like a star
Till you get to where you are

If I promis not to laugh
Will you promise not to cry
Will you promise not to let
This life, slip by

Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move
Love is the groove in which we move
