

Cher, Who You Gonna Believe

I remember every word you said, we can't go on this way
Last night you had me going out of my head
Should I go or stay
I've given you everything that a woman could give a man
When you gonna recognize and realize just what you have (Now tell me)

[Chorus:]

Who you gonna believe, her or me?
What's it gonna be
Who you gonna believe, before your heart shatters
Love is all that matters

You put me through that lovers game over and over
Someday, someone's gonna put you through the same
Lover to lover
I hope you don't find out too late
I hope you never have to feel the pain
'Cause if you lose the love you took for granted
That you could never appreciate

[Chorus]

What about me, don't you think I need a man here
Standing by my side
What about you, you need a woman to hold you
Through those cold and lonely nights
What about us, we belong together for ever and ever
Oh, I'll be there if you should ever need me
I know, everything will work out fine, just believe it
I know, 'cause we've been through this a million times
Keep on believing
I hope you don't find out too late
I hope you never have to feel the pain
'Cause if you lose the love you took for granted
That you could never appreciate, after all this time

[Chorus]
