

Cherry Monroe, At The Stars

You know that i, well i hate to say
I think i want you in the worse way
But i'm too, too drunk to put up a fight
Ive been taking punches all night
Youre so predictable in every way
Youre so predictable and i'm

Outside your house drunk and screaming at the stars yea i'm outside your house drunk and screaming
The stars

You know i'm driving myself insane
I'm driving myself off your pretty plain
And i wish, i was you so i could see
Just what it's like to walk all over me
Youre so predictable in every way
Youre so predictable and i'm

Outside your house drunk and screaming at the stars yea i'm outside your house drunk and screaming
The stars

Our teenage youth is over now, our teenage youth is running wild
Our teenage youth is over now, our teenage youth is running wild
