

Chesney Kenny, Dreams

Chesney Kenny

No Shoes, No Shirt, No Problems

Dreams

She says most men her age want younger women.
She thinks her self esteem's not quite itself any more.
But she sees herself as more than what the mirror shows,
Why that's so important, heaven only knows.
When the important part for her is,
Souls and heart's sayin':

Dreams of sharin' a life and a home.

(Dreams.)

Of never ever bein' alone again.

(Dreams.)

Not even diamonds, just a little gold.
Someone there to hold her hand when she gets old.
Dreams, the kind you know will never end.
Forever lovers and forever friends.
Someone really there, to love and care, and share,
Dreams.

She swears she won't divorce her time.

She swears the more she knows about love, the harder it is to find.

Her perfect picture of her white horse prince,

Is now dependent, dirty and promises,

Someone kind and brave.

Soemone not afraid of:

(Dreams.)

Of never ever bein' alone again.

(Dreams.)

Not even diamonds, just a little gold.
Someone there to hold her hand when she gets old.
Dreams, the kind you know will never end.
Forever lovers and forever friends.
Someone really there, to love and care, and share,
Dreams.

Oh, Dreams, the kind you know will never end.

Forever lovers, forever friends.

Someone really there, to love and care, and share,

Dreams.

She says most men her age want younger women.
