

Chester French, People

there are a lot of lonely people who will sleep in the city tonight, tonight.
and even lining up outside the club and looking for a love that is right, is right.
and if you wanna meet a girl then you should go into a grocery store, your store.
and just find somebodys mind and who can squeeze you in between all the chores, shes bored.
say no, no, no, no. no ones ever gonna find us.
so you might as well complain wooh
no! no! no! no! no ones ever gonna find us.
so you might as well complain.
now every time i see a dime i ask myself if she is really the one, the one.
or is she just another shorty with a fatty cake inside of
that bun, that bun.
but your a different type oh yeah, who can understand the meaning of life, of life.
and i would give you all my lovin' if you weren't already somebody's wife, his wife.
so you might as well complain wooh
no! no! no! no! no ones ever gonna find us.
so you might as well complain.
oh no no your not to old. you got me sold!
you got me sold!
well, oh no no your not to old. you got me sold!
you got me sold!
oh no no your not to old. you got me sold!
you got me sold!
yeah! yeah, your the one! but i know i could be your son.
no! no! no! no! no ones ever gonna find us.
