

Chiasm, Transparent

I feel so out of place
I cannot show my face
How could it be
There's anyone like me?
They leave me far behind
I think they must be blind
No one can see
It's like they stare through me

How can you treat the world this way?
Watch others suffer while you play
You stare with pure insanity
You missed what's really inside me
I pass into the other side
Where there is nothing left to hide
And I can roam and wander free
I think I found eternity

Alone I start to cry
But no one wonders why
I'll never bleed
I feel like I've been freed
The world just passes by
And tramples where I lie
They'll never see
The love inside of me

I'm transparent
How could it be
There's anyone like me?

How can you treat the world this way?
Watch others suffer while you play
You stare with pure insanity
You missed what's really inside me
I pass into the other side
And I can roam and wander free
I think I found eternity

I'm transparent
How could it be
There's anyone like me?

I'm transparent
How could it be
There's anyone like me?

How can you treat the world this way?
Watch others suffer while you play
You stare with pure insanity
You missed what's really inside me
I pass into the other side
And I can roam and wander free
I think I found eternity

Alone I start to cry
But no one wonders why
I'll never bleed
I feel like I've been freed
The world just passes by
And tramples where I lie
They'll never see

The love inside of me

I'm transparent
How could it be
There's anyone like me?
