

Chicane, Strong In Love (feat. Mason)

(say it again)

Standing here in the dim light, You can only see your soul.

No place that we can hide in, no, Your love will still unfold.

By the time your sense is moving, You see,

The one you lost is leading, And turning out to be, Strong in love! (Say it again.)

Strong in love! (Say it again.) And when all your dreams have turned into dust,

And your world has fallen down,

You know you've got to be, Strong in love!

Sunrise here in the morning, And you're lying next to me.

Somewhere love is begining, On a journey I don't know.

By the time your sense is moving, You see,

The one you lost is leading, And turning out to be,

Strong in love! (Say it again.) Strong in love! (Say it again.)

And when all your dreams have turned into dust,

And your world has fallen down,

You know you've got to be, Strong in love! (Say it again.) Strong in love! (Say it again.)

Strong in love! (Say it again.) Strong in love! (Say it again.)
