

Chris Knight, Heart Of Stone

i grew up near what they call the flats aint too many people knows where its at cant hear the highway cant see a way out i guarantee it aint nothin worth cryin about daddy left us all back in '91 left us all wonderin what it was we done id stand in the yard and stare down the road i guess i must have missed how i just dont know got the broken promises got the broken home
dont break yourself on a heart of stone
i married a girl i met in tennessee the baby didnt make it, so neither did we i still think about her but shes fadin fast it dont do no good dwellin on the past
well i call momma every now and then to say im comin home but i dont know when well i ran into daddy but its been so long i dont tell momma, i dont let on
heart of stone
well i got drunk with daddy just the other night he said "he was glad to see i turned out alright" i hear people sayin "like father like son" dont think about it much but i worry bout it some a heart of stone
dont break yourself
on a heart of stone
dont break yourself
