

Chris Lake Feat. Emma Hewitt, Carry Me Away

Down, the water holds me down
It's like I have no weight
And now, I'm floating with the tide
The sun is on my face
And I hear you talking, I hear you speak
Someone's talking, saying something
But I'm on my own, there's nothing left to say
It carries me away
And you call out
I can't hear you, I can't feel you
No, I can't feel nothing
And you call out, I can't hear you
No, I can't hear nothing
And you all look the same, now
You all look the same, now
Now, there's nothing that I want
To take me from this place
I'm drifting further with the tide
That carries me away
And you call out
I can't hear you, I can't feel you
No, I can't feel nothing
And you call out, I can't hear you
No, I can't hear nothing
And you all look the same, now
You all look the same, now
I know you're trying hard to reach me
You'll always feel the cold without me
I know you're trying hard to reach me
You'll always feel the cold without me
I know you're trying hard
