

Chris Rea, Footprints In The Snow

I love, I love, oh, I still love you
Can't wait to see the firelight in your eyes
That's why I wait for your footsteps in the snow

I dream each night that I will wake to find you
Sleeping deep and still down by my side
That's why I wait for your footprints in the snow

Time after time
Year after year
Forever
I will love you

In deepest winter, darkest hours you'll find me
At midnight silence, tremble at the glow
That's why I wait for your footprints in the snow
