Chris Rea, Looking For The Summer

Look deep into the April face A change has clearly taken place Looking for the summer

The eyes take on a certain gaze And leave behind the springtime days Go looking for the summer

This ain't no game of kiss and tell The implications how you know so well Go looking for the summer

The time has come and they must go To play the passion out that haunts you so Looking for the summer

Remember love how it was the same We scratched and hurt each others growing pains We were looking for the summer

And still I stand this very day With a burning wish to fly away I'm still looking Looking for the summer
