

Chris Rice, Punch Lines And Ironies

Chris Rice

What a Heart Is Beating For

Punch Lines And Ironies

here we are together

i never would have guessed it baby theres a reason and baby there's a message cause we've all seen the glories and we've all heard love stories stranger than this

swirl through the galaxies

like dust in the sunbeams

that slant through our windows and heartbeats and molecules

geniuses and silly fools

we're all at the mericies

of punch lines and ironies echoes and rumors of Gods sense of humor

leak out of heaven

in the mysteries and ledgends and they whisper their glories into our love stories and help us believe

yeah help us believe
