

Chrisopher Blue, Such Love

Walking along the railroad tracks
Holding on to each others hands
Beneath the shade of the butterfly trees
Talking without words
I realize that you are a part of me
Like the moon in the sky
Day and night
I never knew such love
I never knew such love
Looking out over the interstate
Twilight shining on your face
The city lights like a halo around your head
I reached for you like lovers do
I realized I'd do anything for you
Like one would do for blood
Like one would do for love
I never knew such love
I never knew such love
