

Christina Aguilera, What Kind Of World

(Actually the song is now called 'Without You')

Whoa, whoa

Have I been blind?
For the first time in my life
I feel I've opened up my eyes
Since you've arrived
Like an angel from the sky
I'm on a spiritual high

So don't you ever go away
I could never face
Losing you would kill my faith
In a higher place

What kind of world
Would it be without you
I couldn't breathe without you here
What kind of world
Would I see without you
I can't dream without you here

Ooh, yeah, whoa

Beautiful boy,
How on earth did I do something
Worth deserving you?
My better half
How I cherish through and through
Every part of you
I do

Loving you's made me whole

Now I belong; I found my heart
Promise me we'll always stay
The way we are today

What kind of world
Would it be without you
I couldn't breathe without you here
What kind of world
Would I see without you
I can't dream without you here

Whoa, ooh, yeah

I can't ever imagine
If this never had happened
Oh, I thank God everyday
Almost lost you forever
But I'll always remember
That you're my saving grace

What kind of world
(what kind of world)
Would it be without you
(oh, without you)
I couldn't breathe without you here
(oh, here)
What kind of world
(what kind of world)

Would I see without you
(ooh, see without you)
I can't dream without you here
(dream without you here)
