

Christine McVie, Northern Star

Im falling down inside myself
Like I have a thousand times or more
And I like it when you comfort me
Like you do when Im insecure

Im lost inside my warring worlds
Casting stone
Throwing bones
And Im wanting you to come to me
Like you have every time before

Im a lonely child
And my hearts aflame
Ive been taken down
And I rose right back again
And I want to say just
How much I love you
For the child you are
Youre my Northern Star

Im lost inside my warring worlds
Casting stone
Throwing bones
And Im wanting you to come to me
Like you have every time before

Im a lonely child
And my hearts aflame
Ive been taken down
And I rose right back again
And I want to say just
How much I love you
For the child you are
Youre my Northern Star

Im a lonely child
And my hearts aflame
Ive been taken down
And I rose right back again
And I want to say just
How much I love you
For the child you are
