

Chuck Berry, Stop And Listen

Stop and listen, I hear my baby call my name.
Stop and listen, I hear my baby call my name.
She don't call too loud, but she calls, ooh, nice and plain.
Stop and listen, before you make a start.
Stop and listen, before you make a start.
Because if you fall in love, it may break your heart.
I love my baby, I'll tell the world I do.
I love you, baby, I'll tell the world I do.
And they'll just have to stop and listen to everything for you
