

Chumbawamba, Tony Blair

Tony

You said that you'd be true
I believed you like a fool
I should have seen it in your eyes

Tony

You promised me the world
But I'm not that kind of girl
And Tony now there's nothing but your lies

Tony

You promised me you'd be good to me
You said that you'd come back for me someday
But Tony now you date
All the girls that you used to hate
So I don't believe a single word you say

Tony

You promised something new
But you're the same old cheating you, you, you
Now it's time to say goodbye

Tony

You said that things would change
But they ended up the same
And Tony now there's nothing but your lies

Tony

You promised you'd be good to me
You said that you'd come back for me someday
But Tony now you date
All the girls that you used to hate
So I don't believe a single word you say

Tony

There's nothing but your lies
There's nothing but your lies
There's nothing but your lies
