Cibo Matto, Artichoke.

My heart is like an artichoke I eat petals myself one by one Until I feel enough Until I lose to laugh

When I end to eat the last one I will tear my drops I will lose my lips

Though I can't stop plucking off I can't see my core I keep asking for you more and more

Can you peel my petals one by one?

Your hands are like a rusty knife Are you gonna keep on peeling me? Are you gonna keep on peeling me? Are you gonna keep on peeling me?

What am I gonna be on the pan? Will I be burnt black? Can you squeeze a lemon on me? A lemon on me?

Baby, baby, everything you wanna feel Baby, baby, everything you wanna taste Baby, baby, everything you wanna feel Baby, baby, everything you wanna taste.
