

Cindy Morgan, Take My Life

Who can say when life is over?
The silver cord breaks and our breath returns to God Will we walk through fields of clover? or soar up high through valleys deep and wide I can not know all that's waiting there but until that day this is my prayer
Oh yes

Chorus
Take my life
take away all the shattered dreams in me
and give me love that will last forever
Take my life
give the love that makes me free
'cause I believe that your love can save even a wretch like me

This race is not just for the runners some of us walk while others barely crawl we make our way through spring and winter leaning on the strength that strengthens all

Bridge
And when the sunlight fades to morning you'll still be burning in my eyes
oh yes

(chorus)
