

Cinema Bizarre, After The Rain

Bitter sweet memories of a love we had before blinded by sanity what's behind the crimson door?

What happened to my eyes Incapable of seeing signs there's just one miracle
That's left of this love

After the rain
I still see heaven crying
After the rain
I still feel no relief cause everything we used to be
and used to feel
It all becomes so frightening real
after the rain

Rainbow skies turned to grey Ever since we lost our smile Innocence gone astray
Since the day we said goodbye

What happened to our dreams Aborted in this dried out stream
There's just one miracle

After the rain
I still see heaven crying
After the rain
I still feel no relief
and used to feel
It all becomes so frightening real
after the rain

After the rain
I still see heaven crying
After the rain
I still feel no relief
and used to feel
after the rain
